This 40-hour didactic education course has been broken up into segments; May 24-25 & continued on May 31-June 2. This course is designed to provide RNs, APNs and MDs with basic education in providing medical forensic care to adult/adolescent patients of sexual assault/abuse. This course follows the guidelines established by the International Association of Forensic Nurses, and will present various hands-on educational opportunities as well as skill stations.

Upon completion of this course, the participant will be awarded 40 CEU contact hours. No partial credit will be given.

Note: Completion of the didactic course does not qualify an RN to practice as a SANE. In addition to the didactic portion, clinical requirements must be completed in the participant's community. Additional information will be provided during the course.

This continuing nursing education activity (40) has been requested through UAMS, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Course Content

- Role of SANE/SART
- History of forensic nursing
- Professional organizations and agencies
